

Exploration

N turned his head, and shoulders to locate musical/noisy instruments and toys. N is visually tracking the flashing, spikey ball when it is moved side to side slowly. Turning towards the mirror bells when they are turned by the adult

Anticipation

When light wand stroked over face N responded with a shake of the head and screwing his eyes up. The second and third time this was done he reacted before the wand touched his face, in anticipation of doing so.

Realisation

Banging wooden xylophone – N lifts head, looks, pauses, then smiles. N moves head as light wand moves. He smiles, laughs, gurgles/coos and eyes brighten/light up.
