for you

Treasure baskets are great for engaging your baby into the natural discovery of everyday objects found in the home.

Babies are curious about their surroundings and learn through their senses.

Things to know

- You can let your baby reach for items themselves and watch how they investigate the object.
- Your baby will explore the objects in a variety of ways, including looking, touching, bashing, tasting, etc.
- Name the objects for your baby and talk about each item.
- Clean the objects regularly and have fun with your baby.

Safety note: Only use items which are safe for your child to use and put into their mouths. This play must be supervised by an adult.

Things to try

Find a basket or box with strong sides, that your child can easily access. Fill this with a variety of objects such as:

- Wooden utensils.
- Metal utensils.
- Pieces of material.
- Nail brush.
- Bracelets.
