

Let's experience senses together

Did you know?...

- You can make your own playdough together
- You can make bath time exciting with lots of bubbles and music
- You can try them with new foods so they can explore their tastebuds and new textures

Benefits of children using their senses supports brain development, enhances their memory and supports language development

