What does Special Educational Needs mean?

The law says that a child or young person has Special Educational Needs if they have:

- a learning difficulty (significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age)
- or disability (which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream education including further education or work based training programmes) which calls for special educational provision (educational or training provision that is additional to, or different from, that made generally for others of the same age in a mainstream early years setting, nursery, school or post-16 institution) to be made for him or her.

[Children & Families Act sections 20 & 21]

The majority of children who have special educational needs (including learning difficulties, medical conditions and/or disabilities) can be educated successfully within their local mainstream school without the need for an Education, Health and Care needs assessment or plan.

What is a statutory Education, Health and Care needs assessment?

An Education Health and Care (EHC) needs assessment is a very detailed process where information is collected from education, health and social care professionals involved with a child or young person which will enable the Local Authority (LA) to find out exactly what their special education, health and care needs are and consider all of the special help that he or she may need in order to achieve their aspirations.

Section 9.3 of the SEND code of practice: 0 to 25 years explains that, “...The EHC needs assessment should not normally be the first step in the process, rather it should follow on from planning already undertaken with parents and young people in conjunction with an early years provider, school, post-16 institution or other provider...”

This should have already been done through the Assess, Plan, Do, Review cycle at SEN Support.

An EHC needs assessment will not always lead to an EHC plan.

When may an Education, Health and Care needs assessment be carried out?

Most children and young people's special educational needs will be met by the help available through their education setting, using their SEN budget, and the community, which is known as The Local Offer. The Local Offer sets out what services are available to children, young people and families.

All early years settings, schools and colleges undertake a cycle of planning, teaching, assessments and evaluation that takes account of a wide range of abilities, aptitudes and interests of the child.

However, for children with severe, complex and long term needs and when school or setting has exhausted all resources available to them, an EHC needs assessment may then be required in order to identify and provide fully coordinated support.

Section 9.3 of the SEND code of practice: 0 to 25 years explains that,

'A local authority must conduct an assessment of education, health and care needs when it considers that it may be necessary for special educational provision to be made for the child or young person in accordance with the EHC Plan...'

Which children would benefit from an Education, Health and Care needs assessment?

An Education, Health and Care needs assessment may be required for children and young people with SEND aged 0 to 25 years who:

- have severe and/or complex long term needs which affect everyday life.
- require provision and resources which are above those normally available.
- require intensive and longer term help and support.
- Is making limited or no progress despite high levels of support and purposeful interventions.

It is up to Local Authorities to create their own guidance criteria as there is no national criteria. However, decisions are made on the basis of the information and evidence provided taking into consideration the child or young person's individual circumstances and needs.

Who can request an Education, Health and Care needs assessment?

The law gives specific right to:

- the parent of a child or young person under the age of 16 (or an advocate on their behalf);
- a young person aged between 16 and 25 (or an advocate on their behalf); or
- a person acting on behalf of an education setting: school; early years setting or post-16 institution (where possible, this should be with the knowledge and agreement of the child's parent or young person).

What happens when a request for an EHC needs assessment is made?

In addition, anyone else (e.g. foster carer, health and social care practitioner, those responsible for education in custody *, school or college staff), can bring a child or young person who has (or may have) SEND to the attention of the local authority, particularly where they have specific concerns and think an EHC needs assessment may be necessary. Again, where possible, this should be done with the knowledge and agreement of the child's parent or the young person.

* Children and young people under 19 (between the ages of 10-18) in youth custodial establishments also have the right to request an assessment for an EHC plan.

How is a request for an Education, Health and Care needs assessment made?

There are EHC Needs Assessment (EHCNA) forms for parents, young people and educational setting (pre-schools, schools, colleges etc.) available to download, complete and return at Education, Health and Care \(EHC\) needs assessments - Family Hub

If the person making the request is not the parent / carer or young person formal consent must be obtained before sharing the information.

Requests for EHCNA should be sent to the SEND Team at the Local Authority, preferably by email: ehcp@torbay.gov.uk However, if it is not possible to send it by email they can also be sent by post to: SEND Team, 2nd Floor, SF332, Electric House, Torquay TQ1 3DR

If you have any questions please call the SEND Team

☎ 01803 208274.

What happens after the LA receives a request for an EHC needs assessment?

Regardless of who makes the request both:

- educational providers (pre-school, school, college etc.); and
- parents/carers/young people, will be requested to submit their views and evidence in advance of that information being presented to the SEND Panel and a decision being made.

The SEND Panel is a consultative moderation group. In the majority of cases, this Panel used to give considered recommendations to the LA officer responsible for making the final decision. The SEND panel meet weekly. It is chaired by the SEND leadership team responsible for making the decision and consists of representatives from Educational Psychology, Advisory Teaching, SENDCOs, SENDIASS, health and social care.

The Local Authority must make a decision and communicate that decision to the child's parent and/or young person and the educational provider within 6 weeks of receiving the request.

If an Education, Health and Care needs assessment is agreed for my child what will happen?

If the Local Authority decides to undertake an EHC needs assessment they will allocate a SEND Casework Officer. This will be the person who keeps you updated on your child's assessment. They will meet with you, listen and collate any additional information you may have. They will also be responsible for collecting information from education, health and care professionals involved with your child / young person.

When all of the information has been gathered, those involved in the assessment stage, along with yourself, will propose the support needed for your child / young person to achieve their required aspirations and outcomes. If the support required can be put in place without the need for an EHC plan a plan will not be issued. However, if it is agreed that an EHC plan will need to be issued all of this will be recorded in your child's Education, Health and Care plan.

Who is involved in the process?

Your child, young person and family will be at the very centre of the assessment and your issues, views and concerns will be listened to every step of the way.

Your allocated SEND Casework Officer will be your first point of contact, responsible for overseeing the Education, Health and Care needs assessment.

What is an Education, Health and Care plan?

An EHC plan is a legal document that:

- records the information collected during the assessment;
- identifies and describes all of the child's/young person's special educational needs and relevant health and social care needs; and
- specifies all the special help they will get to meet their needs and aspirations to meet clearly identified outcomes, including who will provide the support and when the support will happen.

How are Education, Health and Care plans reviewed?

An EHC plan must be reviewed at least once a year and every six months for children up to the age of 5. This is called an Annual Review.

You will be invited to an Annual Review meeting at school so that you are fully involved in talking about your child's progress and the arrangements which are being made. All of the services and professionals involved in your child's development will also be invited to these review meetings. At the meeting, your child / young person's progress will be discussed and recommendations can be made to the LA about possible changes to the EHC plan if necessary.

If there are serious concerns raised at any other time an Annual review should be called as soon as possible.

A SEND Officer will ensure these reviews take place and continue to monitor your child's Education, Health and Care plan.

Personal Budgets

Whenever an EHC plan is written or revised you will have the right to request a Personal Budget. A Personal Budget sets out costs required to meet your child's needs as specified within their EHC plan.

There could be opportunities for you to have more choice and control over what support services your child / young person receives through Personal Budgets. Your SEND Casework Officer will be able to talk to you about this and explain more.

Frequently asked questions

Does my child need an EHC plan to get support and/or funding at school?

No. Your child doesn't need an EHC plan to get funding and support in nursery, school or college within SEND Support.

All schools and all school and academy sixth forms, sixth form colleges, further education colleges and 16-19 academies have funding for children with SEND. Early years settings such as nurseries can also get extra money to support a child with SEND. Please see the following sections on the Torbay SEND Local Offer - Family Hub to learn more: Send Support In Mainstream, SEND Support and Provision – Graduated Response - Family Hub and SEND funding for children and young people in mainstream schools academies and free schools

My child hasn't started pre-school or school yet. Can they have an Education, Health and Care plan?

Yes, if your child meets the eligibility criteria. We have designed a process to allow us to put an Education, Health and Care plan in process as early as possible so that it follows your child through their life. Reviews will be planned so that timely support can be planned for and put in place, for example; the start of preschool and then for primary school.

What happens if I need further information or disagree with the decisions made about my child's Education, Health and Care needs?

You will be kept informed of all decisions made throughout the assessment process and you will be given the name of someone to contact from the Special Educational Needs Team should you require more information. You may also find it helpful to contact

Special Education Needs and Disability Information Advice and Support Service (SENDIASS), which offers free independent advice and support to parents/carers of children with Special Educational Needs. Depending on the nature of the disagreement you may also have a right to appeal to the First Tier Tribunal generally only after mediation has been considered.
